City hotels, beach hotels. All in Almería

The city of Almería, is situated in the centre of the bay of the same name, which opens out to the Mediterranean sea. It is set against the backdrop of the Sierras de Gádor and Alhamilla. The current population is over 190,000. The temperature is characterized by warm winters and moderate summers, this splendid winter climate has led to the typical quote: "Almería, where the sun spends the winter." The beaches, the enviable annual average temperature of 20°C and the attraction of the cultural heritage of the city, make the capital an ideal tourist destination. Besides the "sun and beach," the city offers an important year round cultural, natural, sport tourism... Almería has a very interesting cultural tourism sector for everybody; with its historical quarter dominated by the Alcazaba fortress commanding spectacular views over the city, and its unique fortified Cathedral, which are among its most emblematic buildings. On the other hand, Almería has an impressive bay to explore and enjoy. Alongside Cabo de Gata, which is an authentic natural paradise, boasting a volcanic coast of great beauty and beaches with idyllic coves in which to lose yourself.
